

Bulgarian partner DAYANA-X Ltd. organises series of informative meetings and workshops in order to promote the achievements of the project and to collect feedback on its outputs.

Recently, the elements of the occupational profiles of caregivers regulated by the national legislation in Bulgaria related to VET in health and social sector have been discussed at a meeting with experts having different levels of experience from various small cities within the Burgas Region of the country. During the presentations and conversations significant gaps in existing training programs compared to the needs of real practice have been identified.
